3	This month's focus — Des Bleakley:  How to identify stronger stocks, and good entry and exit points Ever wondered how to use BullCharts to help identify stronger stocks, and to highlight entry and exit points? Des will present how he has written some BullCharts indicators which he routinely uses to identify attractive stocks, including automated BUY / SELL points. In keeping with his desire to do less and earn more, Des has put recommendation actions into the indicators, in an attempt to make life even easier for himself and to limit conscious thought. He also calculates within BullCharts, factors which quantify the relative strength of the stocks and uses BullCharts to calculate over time, the effectiveness (or not) of particular trading strategies — "It is no use being right if the pocket disagrees!" A selection of trading strategies will be presented — these are backtested to be profitable — one may even suit your own trading style. All BullCharts code is freely available upon request.            [Past presentations can be downloaded from this BCUG Presentations folder.]	60	Robert
