

What would you do (QUIZ)?

Brainy's Share Market Toolbox

What would you do?

How good is your investing judgement?
A short quiz...

September 2014

Robert Brain

Price charts summarise the underlying opinions and emotions of the market participants. Every chart tells a story. It pays to understand the stories in the price charts.

This presentation

This presentation was delivered to the Templestowe Probus group in September 2014, in an interactive one hour session, along with a second presentation, “Investing Tips and Success Secrets”.

What would you do (QUIZ)?

The slide features a blue header with the word "Introduction" in white. To the left of the header is a small yellow icon of a printer. Below the header, the text "What would you do?" is centered. A large yellow rectangular box in the center contains the following text in bold black font: "If your broker or advisor recommended that you buy a particular stock, would you blindly accept it? Or would you try to form your own view?". A small number "2" is visible in the bottom right corner of the slide.

What would you do here?

- (a) Accept your advisor's recommendation?
- or
- (b) do some of your own research?

If you answered yes to option (b), then you are not alone.

See the following slides for the investing situations being offered, and carefully consider whether you would buy in or not.
