This presentation...

... was compiled from research in early 2024 for my own personal curiosity, and then to share with the BullCharts User Group (BCUG). The information gathered was considered so important and interesting that we decided to share it with the ATAA audience in July 2024.

Some of the findings in this presentation are of great interest.

The ATAA July 2024 presentation was captured on video, and this recording is available to ATAA members in the ATAA Resource Library.
