

Should I have bought this stock?

Brainy's Share Market Toolbox

Chart Analysis

(aka: Should I have bought this stock...?)

This workshop session will test your technical analysis knowledge and ability. We will show a price chart (hiding recent price data), then seek your input, decide whether to buy, then reveal the stock and all recent price data.

Original: May 2025, and repeated with tweaks April 2026

This presentation...

... was originally compiled from research in early 2024 for my own personal curiosity, and then to share with the BullCharts User Group (BCUG). The information gathered was considered so important and interesting that we decided to share it with the ATAA audience in July 2024, and updated and re-presented April 2026.

Some of the findings in this presentation are of great interest.

The ATAA presentations are usually captured on video, and the recordings available to ATAA members in the ATAA Resource Library.

Should I have bought this stock?

Introduction

Should I have bought this ...?

- In this session we will show a price chart for a “security” (a stock, or ETF or whatever), with recent price data hidden (from 5th April 2025), and we will ask you this question:
“Should I have bought this stock?”
- In the live delivery of this presentation, you will be invited to contribute:
 - Suggest a chart indicator to include;
 - Suggest time period: daily, weekly, monthly.

For traders and investors
there are so many questions...

How would you like to be buying “shares” with key criteria like that listed here.

Should I have bought this stock?

Introduction

About this presentation

The purpose of this session is:

- For you to test how good your stock-picking is; and
- To give you the opportunity to pick up some tips from others about technical analysis and stock picking.
- NOTE: This version 3 of the slide deck includes lots of annotations on the price charts, based on feedback from the ATAA live workshop delivery, and the BullCharts User Group meeting.

On the next slide: the stock we will be studying...

(The gist of this presentation is based on the delivery of a similar presentation/workshop to the ATAA in October 2024.)
